Our graduates

Gabriel Viana

We live in a dynamic world, where marketing and behavioral changes are present all the time, this career has prepared me so that I can analyze, and mainly, be prepared for those changes that will never stop happening. The job market for an economist is huge, and an economist can work in many areas. UNN economics course covers the most varied subjects, giving to the students the main theoretical and technical knowledge required for this career.

I can say that studying at Lobachevsky State University of Nizhni Novgorod was essential to the development of my career.

Our graduates

Jaafar Mahfoud

Studying World Economics here was a very interesting and rich experience. I had the opportunity to understand the growing Russian market among others from an international perspective. Learning here is very interactive and research is flexible and focused. The practical research and the internship I had through the university prepared me for the next step in my career. I learned to manage the tasks on time and to make strategic and extensive research that is results-oriented.

My studies here helped me understand what career I really want to continue.
